

1 Debra Giugliano (center) of Stony Brook University Medical Center, flanked by SBUMC's Lee Xippolitos and Dr. Steven Strongwater, was honored as the 2010 Nurse of Excellence award winner among Long Island's nonprofit and public hospitals.

2 (From left) Dressed to the nines at the INNkeepers Ball were Fred Scheiner, Roz Scheiner, Tracy Arnold Warzer, Erica Popkin, Norma Brown Hill, Graziella Weber Grassi, Jean Kelly, Dee Dee Lichtenberg-Scanlan, Louise Sharakan, Carla Raben, Lisa Reali and Michael Reali.

3 Laurie Murdock, executive director of the Mosaic School for Autism, presented the first-ever Pieces of Hope award to Temple Grandin, a professor with autism who was portrayed by the actress Claire Danes in a recent HBO movie about her life.

4 Chris Neary (third from right) of J. Kings Food Service Professionals presented a $5,000 donation to fund student scholarships to Richard Freilich (second from left) and Bill Dougherty (second from right) and students in Suffolk County Community College's culinary arts program.

5 Henry Klosowski, Robert A. Karson, Arlene Gonzalez-Sanchez, Robert Creighton, Rose Walker, Nassau County Executive Edward Mangano, Jennifer Colbert, Dr. Alan B. Ettinger, Dr. Sebastian Avolese, Shari Lurie, Peter Bee, Dr. Adarsh Gupta, Patricia Maher, Paul Giotis, Alex Sussman and Lois Kilkenny attended the ribbon-cutting ceremony for the Epilepsy Foundation of Long Island's new outpatient clinic

6 The Long Island luncheon in support of the Outreach drug and alcohol treatment program raised a record $150,000. (From left) Neil Sheehan, state Sen. Brian X. Foley, John J. Molloy, Edward J. Blaskey, Jessica (a graduate of Outreach House, who spoke at the luncheon), Kathleen Riddle, Thomas Gesualdi, Rev. Edwin Reed and Brian Edwards.

7 Allstate Insurance Co. signed on as the exclusive named sponsor for Long Island Cruizin' for a Cure's classic car event, which will benefit prostate cancer research and education and will take place Sept. 12. Allstate agents Francisco Mercado (left) and Robert Zabbia (right), who will display their own autos at the show, joined Sandy Kane (second from left) and Greg Fasolino.

8 Ed Travaglianti (left) of TD Bank and Harvey Schaffler (right) of Long Island Blood Services flanked U.S. Merchant Marine Academy Midshipmen (from left) Christopher Jackson, Kyle Genter and Andrew Seebode at Long Island Blood Services' donor group recognition dinner.

