J.Kings Ranked 33

J. Kings Food Service Professionals, Inc., a broadline food service distributor in Holtsville, has made the 2008 Top 50 Broadline Distributors list in ID, the industry's leading online magazine. The list is ID's annual benchmarking survey of the top food service distributors in the country, consisting of the year's top 50 distributor's by sales volume. J. King's ranked 33, with annual sales of $170 million. J. Kings has continually ranked in the Top 50 since its debut on the list in 2000.

Founder and Chief Customer Officer John King attributes the year's success to further development of buy-local initiatives, an onsite farmers market for customers and the public and the opening of the new 24,00 square foot fresh meat cutting operation, WB Stockyard.

J. Kings is an independent food distributor servicing more than 1,800 accounts and concentrating on building the business of their customers by providing a number of workshops throughout the year.
